DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

NOTICE TO PRINCIPALS

In order that Boards may be enabled to earn their full grants, teachers are asked to comply with the following instructions.

For All Schools

If the number of lawful teaching days varies for different rooms in a school the number for the entire school is derived as in the following example:—

In the case of a ten-roomed school with four rooms, for which the lawful number of days is 195, and six rooms, for which the lawful number of days is 185, the calculation would be:—

4 rooms.....each open for 195 days.....(4 x 195).....	780
6 rooms.....each open for 185 days.....(6 x 185).....	1110
	1890
10 rooms..... open for 1890 divided by 10.....	189 days

Therefore, the lawful number of teaching days for the entire school is 189.

The deductions above may be made only for the reasons given in Part 9, page 4 of the Daily Register for Public and Separate Schools, and Instructions re Register Records, Secondary School Register. The lawful number of days for the whole year must be used where for any other reason a school or a classroom is open for only a part of the year.

For Secondary Schools

1. Up to and including June 5, only those pupils who are in actual attendance in regular classes are to be marked present.
2. All final examinations in Grades IX to XII inclusive shall take place after June 5 on such dates as the principal may determine, and pupils of Grades IX to XII inclusive who write these examinations shall be marked present for every school day from June 8 to June 26 inclusive.
